Giving to the United Methodist Church can take many forms and the Foundation encourages donors to explore the ways that are best for them. There are several options available through different planned giving methods, which offers creative alternatives that often benefit both the donor and the church. Giving a planned gift will help ensure that the ministries that have meant the most to you during your lifetime will continue on into the future. When it comes to planned giving, you decide what to give and how to give it.

The Foundation is available to provide confidential consultation and estimated calculations for planned giving. In addition, the Foundation can process gifts of equity with confidentiality and low fees.
